

Job description

Fruit & Vegetable Production

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW:

New Zealand horticulture is big business and growing fast, soon reaching 10 Billion dollars annually, so our growers need to deliver quality, fresh food that consumers love.

JOB OVERVIEW:

Opportunities in Fruit Production and Vegetable Production are varied and seasonal – growing healthy produce for a healthy lifestyle means people are needed for plant care and handling, growing staff, scientists, agritech specialists, educators, even robotics designers! So depending on the services provided by your employer, you could go a long way!

A Fruit Production or Vegetable Production role is an excellent opportunity to be employed in a position that is rewarding, requires high attention to detail and variety, as well as working and training within an existing team of skilled people that will give you heaps of development opportunities to grow into.

SKILLS & EXPERIENCE:

- A desire to be involved in the day to day aspects of fruit or crop production and plant care.
- Understand Health and Safety practices.
- Able to work unsupervised with excellent attention to detail skills.
- Excellent communication skills.
- Have respect for people and different cultures.
- Be able to multitask and work under pressure.
- Tractor Licence or ATV Licence would be advantageous.
- Are able / eligible to work in NZ.
- Drivers Licence.
- Growsafe certificate and First Aid Certificate an advantage.
- Eager to learn and train while you work.